HOMECOMING VICTORY ELUDES THE PATS, 21-6

'Floats, Patriettes, the band—just how many people are left in the stands to view this gargantuan parade?'

On Friday, October 13, victory passed over Marshall's head as one of the top 20 state teams, the Chatard Trojans, rolled the Pats to a 21-6 loss. However, the defeat was only in points, as spectators continued to cheer the team.

At half-time the array of 20 floats were displayed by students. The floats came from every class, some clubs and some third hour homerooms. The junior class float was judged the winner. Then the Patriettes, under the direction of Ms. Norma Dillon, did their routine to "Get It On" and "Stripper" played by the marching band and conducted by Mr. Stephen Humpreys and Drum Major Gary Thomerson. Finally, former Homecoming Queen Cindy Roberts crowned her successor, Senior Mary Sue Fulton.

After the game a dance was held in the main foyer to let Patriots celebrate the homecoming.

Patriots on Parade

TWO NIGHT TALENT SHOW SMASHING STAGE HIT

'Say Alleluia! Its the Right Reverend Doctor Billy Sol here to help you cash in on your faith'

The sixth annual "Patriots on Parade" had no basic theme this year, thus allowing students enough freedom to display their wide range of talents. The show was a success, although temporarily cancelled by the teachers' strike.

Mr Gayle Byers, co-adviser of the show, stated after auditions, "This year's extravaganza, ingeniously laced with barbs on the media, will undoubtedly go down in history as the most smashing 'Patriots on Parade,' " and it was.

Mr. Byers, choir director, and Ms. Janet Eberle, publications adviser, coached the show along with the steering committee composed of three students.

The acts in the show consisted of current music, soul, blues, piano soloists, dances and short skits featured in the auditorium. Major musical groups participating in "Pats on Parade" were the Marshallaires and the Liberty Belles.

'72 SENIORS STAGE FIRST OUTSIDE GRADUATION

'That sun has just got to stay out till we graduate because the rain would just ruin my hair'.

Graduation on June 7, 1972 had a slight change from the usual commencement agenda. For the first time at Marshall, the event was moved outside.

The 1972 class officers Paul Day, Bill Shipley, Terri Kaufmann and Marsha Kimbel led their class in two even lines from the student parking lot to the football field.

After a brief opening and welcome from Principal Thomas Haynes, Valedictorian Bob Copus gave a few words of inspiration to the class and to the audience.

This summer found many Marshall students in workshops.

Publication staff members enrolled in one and two week workshops at Ball State and Indiana Universities.

Six German students visited Germany for a month where they studied in German schools.

Cheerleaders and football Patriettes also attended one week workshops at Vincennes and Indiana State Universities; Lynne Cory and Ed Radcliff attended Girls' and Boys' State.

SHERWOOD COUNTRY CLUB HOSTS PROM

'Quasi Modo! What kind of a mixed drink is that?'

Mr. Thomas M. Haynes, Mr. J. Ray Johnson, Mr. James Rodeheffer and Colonel Clark, District Army Instructor were among honored guests to attend the 1972 Military Ball. "Hopefully Someday" was the theme of the formal dance with more than 50 couples attending. Junior Earnestine Eddy escorted by Senior James Blanchard was crowned queen of the dance.

The Sherwood Country Club was the location for the fifth annual Junior-Senior Prom. "Celebrate", the theme, corresponded with the gaily decorated country club. The dance took place on June 5 and was organized by Senior Sponsor Roger Schroder and a steering committee of juniors and seniors. John and Jim Kimsey's band, "Quasi Modo" provided the music.

All-School Play

'UP THE DOWN STAIRCASE'

'But I don't get the point.'
'Well, then let it be a challenge to you!'

The setting—an inner-city high school. The story—the problems faced by a first-year teacher and how she handles the everyday troubles of her students. With the help of fellow teachers and her students, Sylvia Barrett, played by Liz Ebert, comes to know herself.

Ms. Patricia Clifford directed the play March 15 and 16. "Although the play 'Up the Down Staircase' is a comedy, it does illustrate many of the foibles of modern education. Perhaps Bel Kaufman is alerting us to recognize our inadequacies," stated Ms. Clifford.

Mr. Paul Justice and the stage crew built the set with openings cut in the wall ala the "Laugh-In Joke Wall". Senior Gary Hampton managed the stage crew, and sophomore Margaret Johnson designed the school setting. The set and the matinee performance were another in the series of "Marshall firsts".

"Up the Down Staircase" proved to be a delightful, modern comedy that brought a great turnout by the students and community.

NEW PHASE ELECTIVES INFILTRATE ENGLISH

'The phase electives give pupils both a freedom in scheduling and a responsibility to know their needs.'

Marshall's English Department was the first in the city to introduce phased electives, giving juniors and seniors a choice in their English courses. Various phased electives were Art of the Motion Picture, Bible as Literature, Black Literature, Folklore, Mythology, Reading Seminar, Science Fiction, Shakespeare, Short Story, and Twentieth Century Novel. Language and Communications, Editorial Practices, Speech and Drama were also offered.

"Effects of Gamma Rays on Man in the Moon Marigolds" was reviewed at Clowes Hall by Ms. Patricia Seawell's English 1 class. Humanities classes toured the Museum of Art and the famous architecture of Columbus, Indiana.

Teachers added to the department were Ms. Colleen Stanley, Mr. Jack Weaver, Ms. Margaret Rawlings, Ms. Nancy Williams and Ms. June Grundy.

ONE-HALF MARSHALL'S STUDENTS TAKE MATH

'My straight lines never seem to turn out straight, and my circles are shaped like squashed eggs.'

Math students were once again able to try their hand at the improved system of modern computer technology. A new procedure was set up this year by the Math Department. The principal computer is shared with Broad Ripple. Each school has a terminal into which questions are punched by students.

There were close to 1500 students enrolled in the Math Department, which includes one half of the total student body. Five new teachers were added to the department's staff: Mr. Alan Norris, Ms. Karen Waddell, Mr. R. Joseph Benda, Mr. Venkatachalapathi Ellur, and Ms. Gwendalyn Reed.

ZOOLOGY AND BOTANY CLASSES TOUR ST. LOUIS

'I don't have dreams about exams anymore; now they're nightmares where insects return for revenge!'

An overnight educational field trip was sponsored for the first time this year by Marshall's Science Department. Their tour, arranged by Trailways, included Missouri Botanical Garden, Climatron and the Park Zoological Garden. The cost was $40.00.

The bulldozing and construction that occurred in the fall created problems for biology students. It resulted in the absence of insects and caused many species of birds to look for safer homes.

Life Science, a general science, was added to the department's curriculum. It deals with properties of matter, the universe, and the more physical aspects of science. The class is taught by Ms. Mary Lou Lyons, who is also new to the department. Besides life science, she also teaches two physics classes.

Foreign Language

EUROPEAN TOURS ATTRACT STUDENTS

'Exchanging ideas and solutions with people from different lands is the easiest way to insure peace.'

Studying a foreign language at John Marshall includes more than just learning the proper grammar and pronunciation. Through the I.U. Honors Program seven students will spend their vacations somewhere in Europe and live with a European family and learn the customs of the country they are visiting.

While advanced Spanish students visited the Rivoli Theater and viewed recent films produced in Spanish, Latin students tried a new approach to Latin. Instead of lengthy translations of Latin into English, an active oral approach to the language was tried.

Fourth year German students for the first time were given a choice between either German literature or German history.

New teachers added to the staff included Ms. Mildred Stevens and Ms. Patricia Seawall.

NEW CLASS FEATURES OWN-SPEED PROGRESS

'I never realized typing would demand as much stamina as summer training for the football team.'

"Business courses prepare students in two areas. There is direct preparation toward future business vocations; there is also indirect preparation for the everyday business world that we all live in," explained Ms. Janet Weaver, head of the Business Department.

Record keeping, taught by Kenneth George, was added to the department's curriculum this year. It's an individual progress course where the students move through the material at their own rate and emphasizes financial record-keeping.

DE AND ICT TRANSFER INTO LARGER CLASSROOM

'DE helped me get a job I really like. It helped me train for my present job and any future one.'

Distributive Education classes moved into a larger classroom that was completed this year at Marshall located in the music hall.

The main goal of DE is "to teach students skills in the area of marketing and distribution." Students learned how to handle a customer complaint and were prepared for job interviews and requirements. All seniors in DE were employed.

Industrial Cooperative Training placed students in various industrial trades. Some students became nurses aids, X-ray technicians, or auto mechanics, where they received valuable training.

A regular weekly salary was paid to students, and reports on conduct and attendance were filed.

During the classroom phase students worked on individual study related to their area of work.

MORE BOYS PARTICIPATE IN HOME EC CLASSROOMS

'The best part of foods class is when we get to eat. Of course, not everything turns out edible.'

Woman's Liberation should be happy to know that a few future husbands will have some knowledge of housekeeping or of family living. Boys were enrolled both in foods and family living classes this year. A chef's class is also planned to be added to the curriculum. It will be for senior boys and will require no previous home economics courses.

Colorful red, white and blue striped vests were made by the sewing classes for the office messengers. Badges were also sewn onto the ROTC uniforms by the sewing students. School services were also performed by foods classes; refreshments were made for meetings.

Ms. Marilyn Johannessen, department head, explained, "Students need to be prepared to contribute their share in making a family successful. The home is the basic unit in our present society."

AEROSPACE STUDENTS CONSTRUCT HOVERCRAFT

The Industrial Arts Department gave parents a chance to see just what the students were doing. A family day was set aside and parents visited the shops and watched the students work.

"Girls are welcome to sign up for any industrial arts courses," offered Mr. Clifton Scott. Mr. Scott feels there is a growing area for women in the industries.

During the year, classes participated in contests including architectural drafting, printing and lamp construction.

Competing in the spring and fall drill meets is one of the major events in ROTC. A second place trophy was won in the city-wide fall competition by Marshall's drill team. Drill procedures differ from school to school, but basically follow the same general form.

The ROTC participated in the Veterans Day Parade and in the all-school Memorial Day Parade at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Annual inspection sponsored by the AFI was in May. The performance of the ROTC cadets as prescribed by armed force regulations was inspected and graded.

CHEER LEADERS SPONSOR BUTTON DAY

It took a thousand dollars to dress the Varsity cheerleaders. The girls bought the wardrobe of four skirts, two sweaters, two cullottes, a vest and a raincoat.

Cheering along with them was the Cheerblock, a group especially organized to yell and spread school spirit to the other students at the games. Freshmen and J.V. squads often combined to do a cheer with the Varsity to get across the message. The adviser of all the squads was Ms. Martha Griffin. The cheerleaders sponsored sign day.

PATRIETTES WIN SECOND PLACE SPOT AT CLINIC

'They're super good. I wouldn't try to teach them how to do anything. They can really dance. Kaboom, kaboom.'

They tended to get sore muscles practicing for an hour and a half four nights a week, but that was the major requirement of being a Patriette. Forty girls were selected as Basketball Patriettes; the best thirteen from last year's Basketball Patriettes also performed during football half-times.

The Sparkettes from Indiana State University held a camp at ISU to instruct girls from Indiana schools on new struts and routines. Seven of the Patriettes attended this camp during the summer, where they won a first place ribbon.

The girls made up the routines themselves. Terri Kolcheck and Susan Martin devised the dance to accompany 'Stripper', 'Hawaii Five-O' and 'Big Spender'. 'Horse' and 'Son of a Preacher Man' were arranged by Liz Ebert; Vicki Crawley devised the routines for 'Sunny' and 'Aquarius.'

RICK HARRIS AWARDED ALL-CITY HONORS

Going into the 1972 football season with a tough schedule, first year head Coach Rodrick Shaw led the Patriots to a four-win, six-loss record. Marshall's entire schedule was made up of teams that were at one time or another in the top ten in the city.

Junior Rick (Catman) Harris led the offense in scoring with seven touchdowns and one interception he ran back for a touchdown. Terry (Hocus Pocus) Hochgesang led in total rushing, carrying 129 times for 582 yards and an average of 4.5 yards per carry. Senior Dan McGinley quarterbacked the offense. Senior Mike (Big Boy) Boyer, broke into the backfield to down the quarterback a total of 17 times.

Team awards went to Dan Uhlenhake for offensive lineman, Boyer for defensive lineman, Harris for defensive back and Hochgesang for offensive back.

MIKE BOYER: HONORABLE MENTION ON CITY TEAM

'We started our season out slowly, but made a moral comeback by defeating Greenfield.'

TOUGH '73 SCHEDULE YIELDS 9-12 RECORD

'We lacked teamwork, but with four of five starters back, we should improve.'

Marshall's Varsity Basketball Team's 9-12 record was not necessarily the best ever, but it certainly was the toughest season thus far. The Pats played such highly rated teams as Anderson, Shortridge, Southport, Crispus Attucks and North Central.

The team was the best rebounding team in the Pat's six-year history. Leading rebounders Howard Bowling and Steve Sokolek, with 235 and 231 respectively, enabled Marshall to out rebound opponents 851 to 776.

Hitting 50% from the field, Junior Steve Sokolek averaged 9.9 points per game (ppg) and led the team in field goal percentage. Junior Arnold Freeman with a 16.2 ppg was the leading scorer and Junior Howard Bowling was next with a 13.8 ppg. Bowling was also second in assists with 53 while Senior Ron McBride gave 58 assists.

Only McBride and Steve Cluggish are leaving this year. Cluggish was a good ball handler and a strong defensive player. Dave Glaspie led the team in steals with 28; McBride had 26 thefts.

JV ENDS YEAR WITH FIVE VICTORIES

'This year was a year of building. A lot of sophomores on the reserve and juniors on the varsity.'

The Junior Varsity came back from mid-season trouble to finish out the season winning four of their last five games.

After losing their first two games, the team began to slump when they lost three close games, to Scecina, 59-55, to Arlington, 43-34, in overtime and to Shortridge, 50-48, in three overtimes. Then once again the JV lost a squeaker to Southport, 53-52, but came back and entered the end of the season with a win against Beech Grove, 49-44. Losing only once the rest of the season, they defeated Howe, Greenfield Central and Warren Central.

During the City Tourney the Pats won their first game to avenge an earlier defeat by Broad Ripple, 42-38.

Leading scorers were Perry White with a 10.3 point per game average (ppg), Tom Brown with a 7 ppg and Kent Lee claiming a 5.5 ppg.

The Freshmen Basketball Team finished the season with a 2 wins, 19 loss record.

In 1973 wrestling proved to be one of the most consistent sports at Marshall. For six years now the team has finished their season in the top five teams in the state. In past years they have been Sectional Champions, Regional Champions and City Champions. Finishing with an 8-2 win-loss record this year, the Varsity team showed an abundance of experience.

Jeff Shepard placed first in the sectionals along with Jerry Kuhn. Tim McGinley, Dan McGinley and Ron Gentry all placed second. Rocky Clements and Mike Boyer finished third. Coach George McCool, who has been with Marshall since the first season, finished his last season of coaching. Many avid wrestling fans have felt that Coach McCool has been one of the best coaches in the city.

Marshall's squad will lose four matmen. Leaving are Mike Boyer, Dan McGinley, Ron Gentry and Kevin Norton.

JV GAIN IMPRESSIVE 7-2 RECORD FOR 1973

'Everyone's dedicated! Each year our record improves as the team's experience grows.'

The Junior Varsity wrestlers, under the coaching of Dick Cummings, finished the season with a winning record of seven wins, two losses.

The Freshmen team, for their season, totaled two wins and three losses with a lone tie.

Both teams are drilled on the basic holds in wrestling. Holds such as the half-nelson or the lawrence-central are among ones most used. The wrestling teams have been, for the last four years, some of the best in the state, but they have been overshadowed by the "Hoosier Hysteria."

Players who participated on both the Junior Varsity and the Freshmen teams were Paul Tuttle, Jeff Suhre, Chris Jennings, Mark Shriver and Harold Salvage.

This year's Cross Country team led by Coach John Fellows finished their season with a 5 win, 3 loss record. Outstanding runners were Mark Moyer, Ron Williams and Jerry Kuhn.

FRONING'S YOUNG TEAM SECOND IN SECTIONAL

'Our team was kind of young but our pitchers held most of the big bats in the city.'

A young Patriot baseball team under the experienced supervision of Coach Clark Froning finished another successful season with a 17 win, 9 loss record. Ron McBride, one of the scoring leaders of this season stated, "We look forward to the coming year because we only lost two players, Larry Bryant and Mike Gentry."

Marshall defeated in close battles such strong teams as Scecina, Lawrence and Arlington.

Junior John Crabtree and graduated senior Larry Bryant led the pitching staff. Crabtree compiled a 0.97 ERA and a 6-3 record while Bryant put together a perfect 8-0 record which included a one-hitter. All of the pitchers in the Marshall bullpen had winning records.

In the hitting department, the Pat's were led by graduated Senior Mike Gentry with a percentage of .378. McBride led the team in RBI's and at bats. Gentry led in two categories, hits with 31 and runs with 27. Marshall finished second in the state Sectionals.

Marshall's JV team ended with a record of 10-6.

VETERAN'S LEAD TEAM TO WINNING 6-3 RECORD

'Losing Muffler might be a great loss, but I believe Chris Fields and Rick Harris will secure our potential.'

Five years of trial and tribulation finally paid off for Marshall's track team. Through two coaches and five years of rebuilding, shaping and conditioning, the 1972 track team went into their sixth season with an almost all veteran team, led by Coaches John Fellows and Roderick Shaw.

Marshall held onto a winning streak for the first five meets of the year, then went on to defeat Lawrence Central, 45-73, in the last meet of the season. The track team ended their season with a six win, three loss record and took third place in a five-way meet.

In addition to 1972 being the first winning season for the track team, school records were broken in the 60-yard dash, the 60-yard high hurdles, the shot-put, the 880-relay and the 880. Among the record breakers, only one was a graduating senior, Bill Muffler.

WOOD AND SCECINA FALL PREY TO PAT'S RACKETS

'It would be better if we could play in the spring and fall, that way we get more chances to improve.'

The Marshall tennis team doubled its size over the summer from 9 to 18. The team lost only one player from the spring season.

The highlights of the spring season were 6-1 victories over both Scecina and Wood. Veteran Coach John Eason led the small team to a 2-11 record. Despite losing 10 games by a 7-0 count, the team captured two victories in the City Tournament.

The fall season was highlighted by a 7-0 shut-out against Wood. The team will lose four players next season but will have 14 returning Patriot players.

Senior Bob Bennett led the fall team in victories with a 2-3 record. The doubles were led by Bob Bennett and Ray Kane along with number two doubles Mike Kimberly and Steve Risk. Both teams defeated Wood for Marshall's only victories. The fall record was 1-6. Kane and Risk will return next year.

CHOIRS CUT CHRISTMAS RECORD TO RAISE FUNDS

They literally sang out for John Marshall. The members of Liberty Belles, Marshallaires and Concert Choir were chosen by Choir Director Mr. Gayle Byers after being enrolled in a chorus class.The groups combined to cut a Christmas record to raise money for the Music Department. In addition to class attendance, the singers were required to perform at various functions. The Concert Choir went Christmas caroling at Monument Circle, Eastgate Shopping Center and certain churches. The Liberty Belles also performed at Eastgate and entered the fall talent show with the Marshallaires. Doing things a little differently, they sang carols during company lunch breaks at Western Electric.

The red velvet dresses worn by the Marshallaires and the black skirts of the Liberty Belles were sewn by the girls themselves.

All three of the groups sang at school functions and auditoriums. The classes were taken as a half credit per semester.

—Judy Martin

'Why would they go to Western Electric at all—much less four times in one week? They must be pretty good singers.'

Bands, Orchestra

BANDSMEN MARCH IN '500' DAY PARADE

'Did you hear that last note? Why didn't any upperclassmen join the orchestra or the band?'

The busiest and most conspicuous group in school had to have been the band. Several bandsmen played at half-time at football games. Regular practice began two weeks before school started.

The band usually marched with 64 members and was led by 16 Patriettes. The Drum Major was Senior Gary Thomerson.

The band performed in the Veteran's Day Parade, in '500' Festival Day Parade, in ROTC Inspection and in graduation exercises.

The Orchestra, with an average of 15 musicians, played at the "Calvacade of Music Program" and at the "Christmas Program."

Violinist David Purcell achieved second place in city-wide competition in January.

The Dance Band members were selected by Mr. Stephen Humphreys from the first and second chair positions of Group A band. There were two french horns, four saxophones, four trombones and four trumpets that played pop music such as "Mac Arthur Park", "Mod Squad", "Shaft!" and "Where is Love?".

'Kane's in a pickle, Kane's in a fix. Not enuff copy and not enuff pix!'

The weekly Liberator was budgeted with $180 per week, staffed with 34 students, owned three cameras and held a contract with a local printer. The various staff members were assigned to selling advertising, reporting, taking photographs or editing and were assisted by adviser, Ms. Janet Eberle. Reporters on the staff submitted articles to the Indianapolis Teen Star. The Liberator earned first place in competition sponsored by the Tuberculosis Association of Marion County.

After attending university workshops, Co-Editors-in-Chief of the Marhiscan, Pat Lewallen and Sharon Crowe, had a marked effect on the yearbook's style and format. The book has a more striking appeal and there are slight changes in the organization of sections. The 1971-1972 issue of the Marhiscan received the Medalist Award from Columbia University as a result of having been judged one of the best books in the country. The staff members met deadlines that were set four weeks apart.

JUST US DISCOVERS LITERARY PENPUSHERS

'Oh, boo! That's too cutesy cute, but I like this one. Does it go in the yes or in the no pile?'

Concrete proof that authors, artists and poets do exist at Marshall was published in paperback form with the title Just Us. Original works by students were funneled through teachers to the Just Us staff. Quill and Scroll sponsored the Marion County Journalism Day.

Starting the year with a viewing of a film of the first 500 Mile Race was the History Club. The Club visited museums in the city, and guest speakers from within the school showed slides from personal trips.

If everybody had to take
The time to see things
As they really are,
I'm sure by far
They would agree
Things aren't what they're Cracked up to be.

QUIZ TEAM BROADCASTS FROM LOCAL CHANNEL 13

'I think all those guys in the Star Trek Club are spaced out; all of them think Spock and friends live!'

Three by five pieces of paper with CARE*FREE GUM written on them were printed and collected by members of the Star Trek Club as its major project. The wrappers were part of a contest sponsored by WIFE. The members also discussed Star Trek revival possibilities and Star Trek New York convention.

Broadcast on Channel 13, the Quiz Team had four members and one alternate who were selected by Mr. Robert Craig, adviser. The team competed successfully against Pike and Scecina. Members were John Moyer, Jean Kane, Bill Gebby, John Kimsey, and alternate Judy Begines.

Thespians were elected to the honorary society on the basis of their participation in school plays. This year's productions were "Up the Down Staircase" and short acts and skits in "Patriots on Parade". Adviser of the Thespinas was Ms. Patricia Clifford.

RADIO SHACK WA9EF RUN BY MARSHALL RADIO CLUB

'Girls on the Chess Team? Mark up one point for Women's Liberation from Bobby Fisher!'

Sales pitches, election of district officers and lectures busied area students the DECA Club had invited to the District 8 Leadership Seminar and Officer Training Conference at JMHS. DECA members had earlier in the year given a fashion show where they modeled Edrich LTD and Lerners Shop fashions. President David Ponto, Vice-President Rusty Brill, Treasurer Diane Harman and Secretary Elaine Smith lead DECA.

Based on the numbers of points each player accumulated, four top players of the Chess Team were chosen to compete against other schools. Varsity players were Jay Wilkerson, Jim Totten and Ed Slicer. Mr. Stephen Sachs advised the club.

Radio Shack WA9EF was operated by the Radio Club. The club toured local radio and television stations and the Weir Cook Airport Communications Center. Advisers Paul Justice, Robert Carr and Martin Coogan promoted talents and developed club hobbies. As a public service, the club sent out flood and tornado warnings.

SALES FROM PRETZELS CLEAR MORE THAN $200

'Let's vote on it. Do you want to go to see Michigan or Germany?'

At eight cents a pretzel, the German Club cleared more than 200 dollars working at the Oktoberfest at Southern Plaza, October 18-20. The members also sold Amway Products and combined profits to sponsor trips. "Tree the Trojans" captioned the club's first place Homecoming float. The members subscribed to Rundschau, a newspaper written by students of German. Club officers were President Tom Healy, Vice-President David Buttram, Treasurer Bob Cleveland and Secretary Dina Schenk. Advisers were Ms. Paula Barbour and Mr. Brice Tressler.

The members played bingo in Spanish, celebrated Christmas with a pinata party and demonstrated the proper way to make hot tamales. The Spanish Club sponsored different activities concerning Mexican and Spanish culture. Mr. William Jefferson and Ms. Paula Seawell were advisers.

The Latin Club entered North Central's Chariot Race and participated in an annual Roman Banquet. The Club was advised by Mr. Byron Cooper.

Bird watchers and ecologists made the Naturalist's Club the largest club last year. The attendance of one trip constituted a membership. The club took trips to Spring Mill, to Indiana Dunes State Park, and to the Peru County Covered Bridge Festival to study nature and the environment. Advisor to the club was Mr. Robert 'Doc' Weaver. Rusty Cline was president; Terry Schlimgen, vice-president; Ray Kane, treasurer; and Jamie Haverstick, secretary.

The Spelunking Club focused mainly on the exploration of caves and on cleaning up the environment. President of the cave-explorers was Calvin Johnson, with Keith Brown as vice-president, secretary and treasurer. Explorations made by the students included cave trips to Sullivan, Wayne, Coons, Grotto, Shaft's, and Buckner's.

PATIENTS RECEIVED EASTER EGGS FROM Z CLUB

'We kept suggestion slips in the rooms but no one ever used them. I don't think anyone really cares anymore.'

Who do you have to thank for the only pep session of the year? It was sponsored by the Student Council which also sponsored 'Fifties Day,' 'Spirit Week' and a dance.

Procedure for submitting suggestions to the council was to fill in a standard form and hand it in to the third period representative. Officers were President Tom Healy, Vice-President Ed Radcliffe, Treasurer Judy Butler and Secretary Terri Kolcheck.

As a service group the Z-Club sponsored the Weber Nursing Home by celebrating Christmas, St. Patrick's Day and Easter with the patients. The girls at Christmas time collected toys for the Teen Toy Shop. The club also began a new policy of awarding points for the participation of each member.

The National Honor Society raised funds for a needy family by asking for donations from the student body.

RIFLE TEAM AFTER YEAR RECAPTURES STATE TITLE

'What a bear. Look at all those bars and ribbons and rope. But only on Thursdays at JMHS.'

The State Championship Title was regained by the Rifle Team, last one having been won in 1970. The members Mike Hauser, Mack Mullins, Jim Blanchard, Joe Miller, and Terry Duling practice after school under the new adviser Sargeant William R. Pennington.

Sponsor of the Rifle Team was Tina Bristow who presided at each match.

Captain Major Gary Snyder led the Drill Team in matches. The Drill Team also practiced after school and conducted demonstrations to the student body and to selected grade schools.

The Girls Drill Team practiced weekly on new steps and also competed with other schools. Advisers were Ms. Patricia Lanahan and Ms. Susan Lange.

Almost all of the members were enrolled in ROTC where they became interested and decided to join the teams. Marshall has one range where Rifle Team members shot rounds from a distance of 50 feet. High scorer for the first semester was Mike Hauser who scored at least 280 points at each match.

WHO GOES WHERE, WHEN KEEPS STAFF BUSY

'Where are you going? Do you have a pass? Let's see it. But I really do like students!'

Increased enrollment brought the faculty from 110 to 117 members, 24 of whom were new. Despite the "yes, you have the feeder schools," "no, you don't," "yes, you do" messages from the School Board, Marshall began smoothly. After evaluating the Urban Upswing report, the Metropolitan Achievement results, and the Purdue Del Phi Project report, the staff set goals for the coming year.

A continued emphasis on the reading program had many students taking advantage of the bookstore display of paperbacks. New policies for absences, a warning chime for tardy students, expanded corridor supervision, and paraprofessionals in the cafeteria were new. Also, nine new classes were begun in the fall, and a new English program for juniors and seniors began.

The fall open house, the five-day teacher strike, professional workshops, and after-school activities were part of the staffs' year.

—Patricia Marshall

Mr. Thomas Haynes' indeed has a responsible job leading JMHS. Many of his responsibilities include interviewing speakers for auditorium schedules, co-ordinating student-teacher relations, and setting total-school goals.

Law and order were kept at JMHS year by Pat Adams and Jim Stubbs, IPS security guards.

Both of our deans this year are extremely happy at the attendance, which is part of their jobs.

SENIOR CLASS STUDY PROVIDES UNITY

The class of '73, led by David Buttram, president; Paul Firth, vice-president; Jean Kane, secretary and Kathy Rogers, treasurer sponsored such annual events as the senior Christmas party, the senior breakfast, mini-course week, the senior prom and messages for Halloween and Valentine's Day.

The annual senior trip was changed from Washington, D. C., to New Orleans. A senior study hall was created to boost class spirit and to give pertinent information to all seniors; it was during second hour.

Mr. Roger Schroeder again assumed the responsibility of class sponsor and Mr. John Vardaman acted as class counselor.

The third class to finish all four years here had quite an active and busy year of projects and activities. They renewed the "senior spirit" at JMHS.

During second hour senior study hall, class officers David Buttram, president; Kathy Rogers, secretary; Jean Kane, treasurer, and Paul Firth, vice-president, discuss class business. Senior study was set up to keep the senior class aware and informed of the class's activities as well as to help plan post graduation. If this study was found to be successful, it was to be adopted by other city schools.

JUNIORS PLACE FIRST IN 1972 HOMECOMING

'Who makes those crazy Otis contest announcements on the intercom? What is an Otis?'

Looking back and wondering where the past three years have gone, the juniors eagerly await their chance to become the Senior Class.

The Junior Class was represented in a variety of activities and played a large part in Varsity and Junior Varsity sports. Activities included a first place Homecoming float, band, Student Council, cheerleaders and Patriettes.

What started out to be the average freshman class in 1970 startled the student body by becoming the first Marshall football champs, though at frosh level. The athletes of the Class of "74" have pushed their way into half of both the varsity football and basketball teams.

Through the year the juniors were aided by Mr. Donald Austin, who helped shape programs and counsel.

"Who is Otis?" contest was sponsored at Christmas time by the Chunkas, a group of junior boys seemingly dedicated to having a good time. Pictured on Junior Dress Down Day are Ray Vincel, Robby Moore, Jime Totten and Ray Kane. As a doorprize to Patriots on Parade, compliments of Otis, Chunkas gave away a pound of liver which "was eaten by Betty Crocker on the spot."

Shopping for that ideal gift, Mark Combs and Karen Enochs survey the vast selection of records at Pearson's Platters. Pearson's Platter also carries a wide variety of posters, cards and tapes.

Loyal and enthusiastic basketball fans enjoy the ups and downs of weekly games between November and March. Particularly exciting was the one-point decision over close rival, Arlington, and the defeat of previously unbeaten Manual. County power North Central provided several thrills in its four-point win over the Patriot team, who lost in the last few seconds.

Participating in French 5 are Juniors Jan Ramer, Linda Bumpas and Barb Shanks. In addition to their regular grammar text, advanced French classes have been reading such authors as Maupassant, and such works as "Le Petit Prince," a children's classic by Saint-Exupery. Customs and traditions of France are also studied for better understanding of the country.

SUMMER GIVES SOPHS OPPORTUNITY TO DRIVE

'Look at how big that bird is, I think it has red wing tips. Maybe it's an eagle or even a Gas Hawk.'

No longer confused with the size of John Marshall, the sophomores become the future leaders of the school. Leading the class were Counselors George McCool and Mrs. Marjorie Christy who worked in helping the class become involved in school.

The high point of the year was biology. Many sophomores enrolled in this class and became expert bird watchers and leaf and bug collectors. Many attended the annual bird trip to Jasper Pulaski.

Sophomores became active in football, basketball, baseball, band, cheerleading, student council and other clubs. They will help design some of their phase electives in the English Department.

The sophomores started the year by taking the Metropolitan Achievement Test and by preparing a float for homecoming.

—Suzanne Messersmith

Marshall turned back the hands of time to the memories of the fabulous 50's. The 50's day was one of the ways to boost the morale and spirit during Spirit Week December 17 through 22. Mr. Lamb and Zoology students were one of the groups to show off their "groovy" clothes. Some other groups included the well known Chunkas and the Dance Band.

Showing considerable interest in the Auto Shop's Foreign Sports Car Show are several Marshall students. Sophomores, especially, took an interest in the show in the Industrial Arts wing because many will become licensed drivers within the year. Many students got ther experience at summer school which begins the week after school is out and continues until the second or third week of August.

FRESHMEN ENROLLMENT HITS 700 FOR RECORD

'Don't give me that third floor jazz or that elevator ticket story! No dude's gonna get me lost.'

With total enrollment over 700, the freshmen class remained the largest at Marshall. From the first day, the freshmen learned that high school life was going to be different from grade school life. Orientation classes were set up to improve reading skills and to plan a four-year program. Other classes were offered to meet the individual's academic needs.

The freshmen became involved in activities both in school and out of school. Many boys participated in football, basketball, wrestling, track and baseball. Freshmen girls were active in GAA, cheerleading, cheer-block and musical groups. Some were involved in Student Council, in marching band and in preparing a Homecoming float.

Throughout the year the freshmen were aided by Counselors Mr. Benjamin Sanders and Ms. Marjorie Christy. Their job was to assist in class scheduling and to make plans for the future.

1973—a peak year,
a time of easing racial tension and overcrowded conditions;
resolving disillusions as we applaud the end of the war . . .
the return of Colonel James
Kasler to Indy . . .
Kasler to Indy . . .
the $400,000 vocational addition . . .
the IPS and IEA compromise;
we were saddened by the death of Custodian
Roy Lee Raisor . . . and the use of mace at school;
yet, perhaps one year is similar to the next . . .
the cast of characters keeps revolving, but the plot remains the same . . .
so maybe we've reached our goal . . .
we are united . . .
we have accepted
compromises . . .
we have widened our circle of compassion.

Acknowledgements

Despite the interruptions of little sleep, pizza hunger pains, hanging Jarc's Snoopy-the-Dog, rescuing Phyllis from the window, and nightly typing sessions, the 1973 Marhiscan has come to a conclusion. Our thanks go to Newsfoto Representative Dick Kennard, to Paula Studios, to Beverly Studios and to Ed Bowers and Gene Alvarez from Tower Studios for their professional assistance. Also for the several attempts of our aerial shot, we would like to thank Harold Brown, Dannie Lewallen and Metropolitan Airport.

Our appreciation goes to Jean Kane, who along with the staff, spent many free hours helping to make the '73 Marhiscan a consistent book. And finally the most sincere thanks goes to Ms. Janet Eberle, without who the Marhiscan would never have been possible.
